Soccer is an outstanding team sport. To give each team the same chances, a so-called human table soccer will be used. This is an inflated table soccer where every team member represents a player. Each player has its own place at the pole. Direct interaction with another player is avoided thus the risk of injuries is very small. The most important aim is team spirit. The softball can only be played, when every team member at the pole is moving to the same direction.

During the preliminary rounds, the teams can collect additional points at the activities “dribbling course” and “goal wall shooting”. Later, the semi-finals and the final will be played in tournament-mode. The event can be realized indoor and outdoor or booked as an alternative for an outdoor program in case of bad weather.

This program offers pure adventure and fun with futuristic off-road vehicles. At our offroad area up to 4 participants can simultaneously test drive a Ziesel on the course. The tracked electric vehicle is a Tyrolean invention and is steered through a joystick. It is great fun to drive on any surface like gravel or even on snow.

After a short explanation and changing into the safety equipment, guests can go with up to 10 electric motocross bikes on the especially designed course. Also, an excavator and a Virtual Reality station can be used at the same time.

Team.Experience

With our Team.Experience modular system, you can put together your individual teambuilding program quickly and easily. The individual activities can be combined flexibly and can be carried out anywhere you prefer. Whether outside in the park, in a hotel or in the seminar room, with our activities your team will spend an exciting afternoon and develop a new team feeling. The team size is freely definable but is ideally between 5 and 10 people. For larger groups, the stations can also be set up several times. In addition to classic teambuilding activities, simulation games and exercises, we also offer unforgettable group experiences, such as a trip to virtual reality. A time frame of half an hour is ideal per station. On the following three pages you will find examples of possible exercises.

Activities for Team.Experience

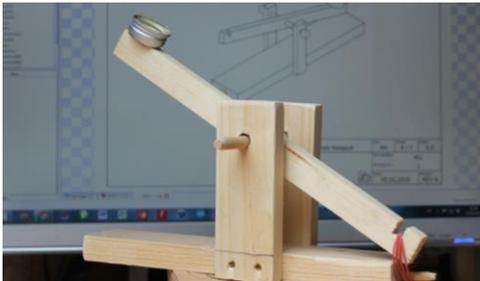

Walk the Plank

The participants wear virtual reality glasses that transport them into the virtual world. There they stand on the 80th floor of a skyscraper. Now it's time to step onto the thin, free-floating plank - fun and thrills are guaranteed with this view!

Drone Races

Have you ever flown a drone? For this activity you need a lot of concentration and a steady hand. After a quick practice round, the race starts. A tricky course awaits the participants.

Building a Catapult

After joint planning, the construction phase begins - the participants need manual skills, concentration and teamwork!

Simulation Game

Various negotiating partners must work together to find a solution to a specific problem. This simulation requires effective communication and illustrates the advantages of partnership and strategic thinking!

Activities for Team.Experience

Nine Points – One Rope

Think outside the box! The goal is to connect the nine dots in a certain way. Sounds simple but requires thinking outside the given framework - which is not easy for everyone.

The Magic Polygon

This is the time to rethink! The participants are confronted with the task of representing a certain shape with a rope. It becomes clear that too little resources are available - unconventional solutions are needed!

Spaghetti Bridge

Building a stable bridge out of spaghetti - sounds impossible? No, it is not! With the right technology this project succeeds. In this challenge, the participants discuss different solutions and demonstrate teamwork.

Nail Stacking

A certain number of nails should be balanced on one single nail. Can the task be accomplished at all, and if so, how? Team spirit and a steady hand are needed!

Activities for Team.Experience

Olfactory Experience

The participants take a deep breath, relax and try to identify the unknown smells. The scent comes from spices and natural substances. This sensory experience sounds easier than it really is.

Tent Construction

The task is to set up a conventional igloo tent. The problem is, that half of the group is blindfolded. The rest of the team must now give clear instructions and help the blind colleagues.

Focus Ring

An egg placed on one stick should be transferred to another stick as a group. Since the team members are blindfolded and are not allowed to touch the egg, they are given a ring with strings attached.

Leonardo Bridge

Leonardo da Vinci developed, among other things, a transportable bridge. The participants try to assemble the individual components without any further aids - all by skillful entanglement.

CO₂ Compensation via donation

CO₂ Compensation

Every event starts with a massive amount of CO₂, as the guests need to make their journey to the event. To compensate for the CO₂, a certain amount of money can be used to invest in sustainable projects. Here are our recommendations:

Climate Austria (www.climateaustria.at) calculates the CO₂ emissions of individuals, companies and flights with a certified method. Thereupon a CO₂ compensation can be made by supporting national and international climate protection projects.

Treedom (www.treedom.net) plants trees in various countries. The project finances and supports small farmers with the maintenance of trees in their first few years. Subsequently, they bear fruits and offer food security, protection against soil erosion and create habitat for animals.

The Rain Forest Association (www.regenwald.at) advocates for the preservation of an endangered rain forest area of about 40km² in Costa Rica. The area was integrated in a national park to save the biodiversity. Furthermore, the association is committed to the reforestation of cleared land plots, the employment of gamekeepers, the protection of endangered animal species, sustainable tourism and tropical research.

Tropica Verde (www.tropica-verde.de) is a German association for the protection of tropical habitats, biodiversity and endangered species in Costa Rica. The association advocates for reforestation, the protection of forests and animal species as well as environmental education in Costa Rica and Germany. Furthermore, the association holds the DZI donation seal and is committed to transparency under the requirements of the “initiative transparent civil society”.

Myclimate (www.myclimate.org) offers solutions for effective engagement in the sectors sustainability and climate protection. Myclimate is one of the global quality leaders for voluntary CO₂ compensation actions, especially in Germany, Austria, Switzerland and Norway. Since its foundation, they have already developed and supported 174 climate protection projects in 45 countries.

Implementation potentials: Catering

Drinks

Local juices, Tirola Kola in glass bottles, still water, instant coffee or sirups like Nako sirup or Peda Cola as well as beer in glass bottles or 5l reusable barrels can be offered. The drinks are served in reusable cups to reduce waste.

Catering

For a sustainable catering, we get offers from local suppliers with regional products like vegetables and fruits from farmers. More than 50% of the catering will be vegetarian. Snacks include fruits, sustainable packed or homemade granola bars, 100% recyclable napkins and pastry from local bakeries.

Transfers

We ask you to bring the guests from A to B, as CO₂ effective as possible. For smaller groups car sharing of electric vehicles can be an option. Trains and public transport can be used to get back to the accommodation or for short drives to a different location.

Hotels

For the accommodation, climate neutral hotels will be booked, that offer a sustainable buffet and cooperate with local suppliers. The sustainability is more important than the location of the hotel.

Give-aways

Examples for sustainable give aways are handmade Edelweiß made of pine wood, pine wood pillows, bee products, and many more products, including sustainable give aways from local farmers.
